OfSTED

As many of you will know, we were visited by OfSTED this week to inspect our school. It was amazing to see that in the parental surveys, over 80% of you said you would recommended our school.

A huge thank you to our parents and carers for your continuing support of our school and the journey we are on. We will share more with you when we get the report.

The Great Science Share

This week, our Y5/6 children attended the Trust's 'Great Science Share' where the focus this year was SPACE. The children presented their learning, which combined their knowledge of humans' needs and space to create carefully planned habitats for a world beyond our own. The children were fantastic in both their understanding and how they represented our school. Well done!

EYFS Forest School

Our youngest children too part in their Forest School session this week. They made insects from natural resources they had collected and clay. They were so proud of their work. They also enjoyed swinging in the hammocks and their cooking session where they made bread and s'mores.

Whole School Art Afternoon

This week, all the children in school took part in an art afternoon where they focused on the artist Paul Klee and his style of art - cubism. The children used his style to inspire their individual pieces, applying the skills that they have learned across the year. They are really looking forward to showing their work in our art gallery next week.

Reception Allotment Visit

On Monday, our Reception class visited the Kellington Allotments. They spent time listening to some local residents talking to them about plant growth, how to care for the allotments and even got to bring some potatoes back to try. A huge thank you - the children thoroughly enjoyed themselves and learned so much!
